GEORGE G. RICE GOES TO JAIL

of Spectacular Career rendered in N. Y. By Bondsman

YORK, May 1.—A man said to be George G. Rice, but who is known as Jacob Herzog, 572 East Fifty-first street, New York, was taken to the city jail yesterday by Edward J. McLaughlin, of 60 East Eighty-third street.

McLaughlin declares the man is Rice, a bond of $25,000 for grand larceny. Rice had acted as a stock broker and had been given the name of "Herzog" by the police.

At the Tombs, the registry of the man read: "Jacob S. Herzog, 572 East Fifty-first street, New York, and on this address was given as the man's home."

It appeared, however, that the man was not the same as the one who had been given the name of "Herzog" by the police. The man was a Jew, and his name was given as the man's home.

The man was taken to the city jail yesterday by Edward J. McLaughlin, of 60 East Eighty-third street.

AIR MAIL PILOT KILLS HIMSELF

T. O. Paine Commits Suicide During Birthday Celebration

SALT LAKE, May 1.—By shooting himself through the head, T. O. Paine, airplane pilot of the air mail service, committed suicide at his home, 131 Edith avenue, yesterday morning at 2 o'clock during a celebration of the anniversary of his birth.

Neighbors complained to the police of the noise made by Paine, his wife and brother-in-law, W. L. Marshall, the celebrants of the occasion. Paine was asked to restore quiet and immediately obeyed the request of the police officers who called at his home. Upon returning to the police station, the police learned that Paine had shot himself. He was taken to the hospital where every effort was made to save his life. His lower right jaw had been completely shattered by the bullet from the heavy army officer's revolver, and the base of his brain was thought to have been injured. The wounded man slowly lapsed into unconsciousness from shock and loss of blood.

Claron Nelson, superintendent of the western division of the air mail service, said yesterday that Paine was, without exception, one of the best aviators in the service.

"The man flew day in and day out over one of the most dangerous parts of the air mail route, that from Salt Lake to Rock Springs, Wyoming," said Mr. Nelson. "Without accident to himself or his machine during his entire eighteen months of service. The anniversary of his birthday had been observed by his friends at Woodward field and a new special plane recently finished for him had been fitted with special comfort trinkets as gifts."

A pilot from San Francisco has been assigned to take Paine's place, and he will arrive here today.

Paine was 29 years of age. His home was in Everett, Wash., where his parents live. During the war he was "stunt" instructor in the air service at San Diego, Cal. He continued in this capacity until the end of the war, when he went to Mexico and organized the Mexican air service for Governor Carranza. While engaged in this work he held a captain's rank in the Mexican army. He was married about two years ago, following his return to the United States from Mexico.

The body will be sent to Everett for burial. A military escort will accompany it to the train from the S. D. Evans undertaking establishment.

DIVERSIFIED CROPS URGED IN IDAHO

MALAD, Idaho, May 1.—If the farmers of the state will diversify their crops they will become much more prosperous, according to C. Ben Ross, secretary of the Idaho Farm Bureau Federation.

"The return of prosperity in Idaho," Mr. Ross said, "depends on good crops, and farmers must receive cost of production plus a profit."

"A majority of farmers are one or two crop men, which is all well and good, if the farmer is raising crops in which there is an active demand and which sell above the cost of production plus a reasonable rate of interest on his investment over a term of years, and if the farmer is raising crops in which he is on the wrong side of the ledger. The twelve principal crops in Idaho brought only $64,000,000 in 1921, and those crops on a whole were produced at an actual loss to the farmer."

"One of the reasons for this situation is that farmers persist in raising one or two crops. The remedy is diversification, intensification and rotation of crops, livestock, the cow, the pig and the hen."

There are two counties in Idaho that are reasonably prosperous. The majority of farmers in these counties have a monthly income, the banks are in good condition and they have the money to finance this year's crops. Some of the banks in these counties haven't a dollar of red ink on their books. Dairy, poultry and hogs brought into one of these counties last year amounted to $4,000,000.

"Every county in Idaho can be made prosperous in this time of depression if we can get the proper cooperation from business men and the farmers. Farmers through education must be induced to raise money crops. In 1921 twelve crops brought $64,000,000, of which there was a loss to the farmer, and poultry, $4,000,000. The other ten principal crops should bring as much as, or more than, they did in 1921. Then our 42,000 farmers and every other business in Idaho would be prosperous."

IDAHO HISTORICAL SOCIETY ASSEMBLES

POCATELLO, Idaho, May 1.—The first meeting of the Idaho Historical Society since the adoption of the new constitution is to be held on the night of May 2 at the public library assembly room. Librarian J. S. Richards of the Idaho Technical Institute and City Librarian Edith Ganut will report on the outcome of discussion on the formation of the state society at Pocatello which arose at Boise during the recent state convention of the state library association there.

It is the intention of the society to issue an "Idaho Historical Quarterly," on the same plan as adopted by the corresponding societies in Oregon and Washington.

ARMY RESERVES IN GOOD SHAPE

Pershing Forming Plans for Mobilizing in Case of Emergency

WASHINGTON, May 1.—With the organization of the units of organized reserves well advanced, plans are beginning to take shape in the war department for a definite war mobilization scheme, according to a letter from General Pershing answering inquiries of Colonel William Barclay Parsons of New York City as to progress being made with the reserve system.

"This will require plans for assembling and mobilizing every unit of the army of the United States," General Pershing said, "and the solution of the problem will require the assistance of practically every officer of the reserves."

"I can assure you that for some time I have been deeply concerned with the situation among reserve officers resulting from the failure, until recently, to give them a more definite status and function in our scheme of defense," General Pershing wrote, "and that since taking over the duties of the chief of staff it has been my constant endeavor to promote reserve organization to that end."

"REFRESHER COURSES"

The work required a vast amount of preliminary effort, General Pershing said, and had been handicapped by shortage of "proper personnel."

"With a good start," made, the chief of staff said, it was now possible to give careful study to "instruction and employment" of reserve officers, he added.

"Of course in this we are limited by the action of congress in the matter of appropriations and all of our plans must be made with reservation."

Referring to the plan for giving reserve officers annually, if possible, "refresher courses" to keep them up to date, General Pershing said it was hoped "that further appropriations will admit of assembling divisional and non-divisional groups for a 15-day period of instruction at least every other year," while every third or fourth year such assemblies would be held if possible in conjunction with regular troops.

FOR RECRUIT OFFICERS.

"In this connection," he added, "there is one point of view that may not have occurred to you, namely: That while the present personnel of the reserve corps is composed almost wholly of veteran officers who have had active service with troops, the young replacement officers who will come into the corps will not have had service and that some provision must be made whereby the opportunity will be afforded them. We hope to make arrangements whereby they may be attached to units of the regular army and also of the national guard, if that can be arranged, which they will join for their annual training."

MALAD OLD FOLKS FETED BY M. I. A.

MALAD, Idaho, May 1.—The aged people of the town were entertained Friday at the First ward tabernacle of the L. D. S. church in the celebration of "Old Folks' Day."

The entertainment was under the auspices of the First ward M. I. A. The executive committee consisted of Mrs. Hyrum Davis, chairman; Mrs. Hannah Deschamps, Miss Alice Harding, Mrs. Thomas D. Evans, John O. Thomas, Frances Budge, Mrs. Bert Call and Bert Call.

An excellent program was presented and a banquet was served, followed by a dance. Malad's two bands were the headliners of the program. It was the first appearance in public of the school band, and the manner in which the young people acquitted themselves was creditable. Addresses of welcome were delivered by Mrs. Victoria Davis. Four hundred and fifty persons participated in the banquet. Lunches were also taken to the older people of the town who were unable to attend. The oldest person in attendance was Davis Williams, who will be 90 years of age in May, and the next oldest was Mrs. Jeanette Daniels, who is 84.

Is a Bad Back Wearing You Out?

DOES every day mean just another day of suffering? Are you lame, stiff, and aching in the morning—tortured all day long with a dull, nerve-racking backache? Does the least exertion leave you tired, weak, all unstrung? Surely, then, there's a reason why you feel so badly and more than likely it's weakened kidneys. When the kidneys weaken, they fail to properly filter uric acid and other poisons from the blood. These poisons accumulate and upset the whole system. That's why you have that constant backache, and those sharp, stabbing twinges—why you feel so nervous, irritable and depressed. You may have headaches and dizzy spells, too, with annoying bladder irregularities. Don't risk drifting into serious or chronic kidney disease! Help your weakened kidneys before it is too late. Use Doan's Kidney Pills. Doan's have helped scores of Ogden folks, and should help you. Ask your neighbor!

Read How These Ogden Folks Found Relief:

MRS. CHAS. ADAM, 2717 Quincy Ave., gave the following statement February 24, 1921: "Overwork has been responsible for the misery I suffered with my kidneys. I had a dull aching across my back all the time. When bending or lifting sharp pains caught me across my back. My kidneys acted irregularly. I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills and five boxes cured me."

On December 4, 1919, Mrs. Adams said: "The cure Doan's Kidney Pills gave me has lasted. My former statement still holds good."

T. H. REEDER, carpenter, 832 Twenty-second Street, gave the following statement February 24, 1921: "I had a severe attack of kidney complaint and Doan's Kidney Pills brought me entire relief. Other members of the family have also found this remedy good and I can honestly say that it merits these words of praise. I got Doan's at McIntyre's Drug Store."

On December 5, 1919, Mr. Reeder said: "I have never known anything to equal Doan's Kidney Pills for kidney ailments. Doan's always rid me of these attacks."

MRS. JAMES EVANS, 465 Thirty-first Street, says: "My kidneys became weak and I had other troubles caused by kidney disorder. If I laid down I would have to gasp for breath. My back felt as though it would break if I stood. My kidneys were weak and my feet swelled. After the doctor had failed to help me, I got Doan's Kidney Pills at McIntyre's Drug Store and they relieved the pains in my back. I was greatly relieved in every way."
